Cape Town

Tour Snapshot

Locals know, that one of the best ways to get to know a new city is by visiting its neighbourhoods. That's exactly what you'll be doing on this fun, food and drink-filled tour of the vibrant Woodstock area of Cape Town. Explore alongside a local, hearing stories of how this part of the city has been revitalized by the small business owners you'll meet along the way. This is your chance to eat, shop, and drink like a local – Cape Town style!

Highlights

- Taste some artisanal, handmade ice cream
- Enjoy a beer and gin tasting
- Indulge in some locally-roasted coffee and chocolate
- Meet the people who have helped revitalise Cape Town's vibrant Woodstock neighbourhood

Local Impact: How you will help the local community by joining this tour:

- On your taste of Woodstock tour you will meet locals who craft their niche handmade products sustainably. From chocolate to coffee, ice cream, beer and gin, all of these suppliers are as passionate about their products as they are about sustainability, recycling and community upliftment.
- In South Africa, local entrepreneurs (like the ones you will meet) are essential to employing people from previously disadvantaged communities and thus empowering them by teaching them valuable life and working skills.
- All the vendors on your tour use reusable cutlery, plates and cups, and they try as much as possible to source local produce close to the their establishment to further reduce carbon footprint and costs.
- The brewery you visit on your tour uses water they purchase from sustainable springs or water they catch from collecting it with tanks from roofs (rain water).

Inclusions: Local English-speaking guide (Spanish on request), one gin tasting one beer tasting, one ice cream, extra gratuities for the vendors.

Exclusions: Additional food and drinks, souvenirs and personal shopping, tips/gratuities for your guide

Full Itinerary

Cape Town has many unique neighbourhoods well worth exploring, but this tour focuses on the Woodstock/Salt River area, known for its unique, independent shops and small businesses. Most of the city descends into the area on Saturdays, but we know enough people and cool places to visit to make it fun every day.

Our first stop will take us to the Woodstock Exchange, a mixed-use venue featuring galleries, funky shops, and cafes.

Have a look around the Woodstock Exchange and hear a bit about the area and its current redevelopment before heading to another shop owned by a friendly local. Here, we'll be going for a taste of something sweet, and to hear about how artisan ice cream has become a new trend in the Cape.

From the Exchange, we'll walk over to The Old Biscuit Mill, another cool Cape Town space devoted to unique shops, great food, and community events. We'll stop in for a tasting of coffee and chocolate, both roasted right on the premises.

We end the tour with a few more tastings, this time of some local gin and beer, along with a peek into a distillery. If we make a good impression they might just let us stay after closing.

The area shuts down around 6 pm so it would be a good idea to make our way towards the city center at that point. Your guide can give you all the necessary information on how to get back and what else to see and do while you're in Cape Town.
