Local Impact: How you will help the local community by joining this tour:

• On this tour of the Columbia Gorge National Scenic Area, you will be taking trails and pathways that are beyond what most visitors experience while here. In fact, about 30% of your time on the tour is on a trail that is used by fewer than 5% of the visitors to the Columbia River Gorge.

• The tour also supports the local communities by providing snacks from a locally-based purveyor, a small woman-owned business in Portland. In addition, if you choose to purchase something from the Vista House, which stocks a large variety of local craftspeople (including Native American craftspeople), proceeds go to the not-for-profit foundation that maintains the rest stop and historical site.

Inclusions: Local English-speaking guide, transportation in comfortable Sprinter vans, trail mix provided, reusable water bottles provided.

Full Itinerary

The waterfalls and vistas of Columbia Gorge prompt awe and wonder among all those who visit – for good reason. Century-old trees, majestic eagles, pounding waterfalls, ferns, flowers, fungus, ancient rocks, tiny salamanders, forest frogs: it’s like entering a mythical world like no other.

Your tour takes you to important vistas and headlining waterfalls, like the unmissable Multnomah Falls, the tallest in Oregon and one of the tallest year-round waterfalls in the U.S. And weather permitting, we’ll also visit the unusual and visually stunning Vista House; a rest stop on a dramatic rocky outcrop. But beyond that is so much more beauty to discover. You’ll also have the chance to explore a few waterfalls less visited (and only accessible with small hikes), pausing as much as you can to experience the health benefits of negative ions and to breathe deeply in the forest – something known as “forest bathing.”

With a little extra time, this tour allows for a more in-depth experience with the waterfalls of the gorge than any other tour, enough to meditate on the wonders around you. You will return with beautiful photos, as well as a deeper sense of the majesty of the world just outside Portland’s urban center.
