Beer. Cerveza. Bier. Brewski. Biru. Pivo. It doesn't matter which language you say it in, beer could just be the official drink of choice for travellers. Unite with other beer appreciators on this Prague tour to sip local ales, and learn why Prague is arguably the best city in the world for drinking beer.

Highlights

- Indulge in what Prague is famous for – beer!
- Visit four of Prague's true local favourite beer halls and a microbrewery
- Savour typical Czech 'beer tapas' in different pubs along the way
- Learn about the Czech/Bohemian lifestyle, stories, and beer culture from the Middle Ages through Communism, all the way to the present
- Experience the less-touristy districts of Zizkov and Vinohrady, densely populated with beer halls and hidden gems

- Enjoy the local Prague tradition of socializing in beer halls

Inclusions: Local English-speaking guide, tram and metro ride, 5 beers, 4 traditional beer snacks/tapas, Prague beer map.

Looking for the best beer and culinary tour in Prague? You just found it! Join our local guide for an adventure that stops at the most reputable (though not always the most beautiful) beer sanctuaries in the city. Hop on the Metro as the locals do and navigate your way to four of our favourite beer halls to try their best brews accompanied by typical Czech 'beer tapas' (it's a thing, we promise!). As we appreciate the delicious Czech nectar, you'll hear stories about exciting moments in the country's history from the Middle Ages through Communism to the present.

Your Prague beer tour begins at the statue of the Czech patron saint, Saint Wenceslas, on top of Wenceslas Square (Václavské náměstí). After a quick introduction to the tour and the city we'll make our way to our first stop, at a local beer hall in a former industrial suburb that has become the epicentre of Prague's rough-and-tumble nightlife in recent years. Choose from lots of different kinds of beer and pair it with a hearty pork chilli (veggie options are available), served with horseradish and mustard.

Next up, we'll hop on the tram in search of a truly hidden gem, a beer cellar and garden with a jolly and cosy atmosphere that proudly sells a great variety of Czech microbrewery beers! Don't worry, we'll help you choose from the vast selection. We'll also savour some pickled sausage, one of the most famous Czech beer snacks, served with onion and pepper. In our opinion, this place is the best in all of Prague, and trust us...we've done our homework.

Time to switch gears, but who knows where we'll end up next! As local experts, we've always got our eyes peeled for what's going on in the city, so the next stop will vary based on the season and what's happening - who has the most interesting beer on today, which pub has a band playing, etc. It's up to you and your guide where you head to for this part of the adventure!

Next, we will take the metro back to the New Town for a legendary stop at a pub where you'll get to sample more amazing beers and learn about the birth of Pilsner, one of the world's most famous beers. Hopefully it will assist you to wash down a deliciously Bohemian dessert too- deeeelish!

Our tour will finish back where we started, in Wenceslas Square, where we'll say our goodbyes but before you go, don't forget to ask your local guide for more tips on what else to see, do and eat during your stay in the city. And because we are super nice and we want you to LOVE the beer culture in Prague as much as we do, we'll also leave you with a map of Prague's best beer halls, just in case you've not had enough yet!
