Full Itinerary

There are very few European capitals that can truly be described as hidden treasures, but Vilnius is certainly one of them. Its distinct architectural character and cultural richness shine bright despite the scars of Soviet rule. The oldest Baltic state, Lithuania also has deep culinary traditions, well known for their simple yet delicious dishes.

We begin our Vilnius walking tour in the Baroque, Gothic masterpiece that is the Old Town. This is a UNESCO World Heritage Site with a bit of an identity crisis — is it Little Rome, North Jerusalem, or North Athens? Feels like them all!

From the grand Cathedral Square, we will take a stroll to discover some local Lithuanian culinary delights. On our way, we will discuss the fascinating history of Vilnius past and present.

Have you ever tasted acorn coffee or tried cold pink soup? Well now's your chance! As we go from shop to deli, from café to bar, you will get a taste of Lithuania's contribution to international cuisine. Although their stews are to-die-for, take note of the main deli-traction — the abundance of specialty meats and poultry hunted in Lithuania's forests.

After celebrating the culinary traditions of medieval to modern Vilnius, you'll likely want to revisit your favourite era after the tour. Make sure to ask your local guide for advice on other authentic bites and sites not to be missed. But be warned, you'll want to take some time to walk off the feast you've just devoured.
